DYNASAFE Munster site destruct the last chemical weapons from World War II.

In 2006 DYNASAFE commissioned the Muster III site to German GEKA. From 23 to 26 April, 2007, the Director –General of the Organization for Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW), ambassador Rogelio Pfirter, paid an official visit to the Federal Republic of Germany and met the German foreign Minister, H.E.Dr. Frank-Walter Steinmeier, as well as officials from the German Ministry of Defense, the Ministry of Economics and Technology, and the Parliament. During the visit, Director-General Pfirter had the opportunity to tour the destruction facility for old chemical weapons located at Munster, Germany. He witnessed the destruction of the last two old chemical weapons from World War II.
